Anj Handa

Dear Anj Handa

We are pleased to let you know that 'Support after Suicide: A guide to providing local services' is now available on the Public Health England website <https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/suicide-prevention-resources-and-guidance>. Guidance on 'Developing and delivering local suicide postvention support' and 'Evaluating local suicide postvention support' is also available on the NSPA website www.nspa.org.uk/supportaftersuicide.

Public Health England and the National Suicide Prevention Alliance would like to thank you for your impressive support in helping create them. We know a phenomenal amount of work has gone in to developing these and your expertise has been greatly appreciated throughout this process.

Thanks once again for all your support.

Yours faithfully,
